VISITORS GUIDE

In the heart of northwestern Minnesota lies a quaint town full of inviting people, rich history and unique opportunities. The community prides itself on its hospitality, recreation, amenities and an ever growing calendar of events. Crookston is not only a wonderful place to visit but a great place to live, work, play and raise a family.

Our historic downtown connects the past and the future with a broad range of shopping and business opportunities while surrounded by architecturally significant buildings, many listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Behind the unique facades of these beautiful structures, shoppers will find a variety of items including chocolates from the winner of WCCO's "Best Candy Store in Minnesota" contest to fragrance-filled beauty products and gorgeous gifts and decor inside the old City Hall.

As one of the longest continuously operating theaters in the country, the Grand Theatre provides a beautiful and comfortable venue for first run movies and unexpected entertainment possibilities. Crookston's other attractions include the world's largest Ox Cart at the Polk County Museum, community swimming pool, multi-use sports center, exceptional and newly renovated public library, a 9-hole golf course, and an impressive number of parks, trails and natural history areas.

Meandering through town is the Red Lake River, providing a tranquil escape for canoeing, kayaking, fishing and trail exploring all year long. The area also offers opportunities for birding, wildlife watching and hiking the seemingly endless acres of prairie and woodlands. Crookston's beautiful parks that include a summertime splash park, updated playgrounds and rest areas, as well as various sports complexes provide hours of relaxing family time.

Historic Downtown

CROOKSTON'S HISTORIC DOWNTOWN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Crookston has the largest, most architecturally intact concentration of late 19th and early 20th century commercial buildings in the region. Placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1984, the historic business district includes approximately 30 structures. Free self-guided walking tour booklets are available at the Crookston Area Chamber of Commerce at 103 South Broadway, 218-281-4320 www.visitcrookston.com.

Fun facts about downtown's historic buildings were displayed at the Downtown Crookston Development Partnership's first annual Historic Halloween Candy Hunt event in 2020 and included information on some of the area's more prominent structures. Here are some of the highlights from the shared information:

- The Grand Theatre on Second Street was built in 1910 and once housed a candy store and a business college. It had its own orchestra pit that can still be seen in the front of the theatre and had many famous people perform there such as Mark Twain, Roy Rogers, and Boris Karloff. The Grand is also known as one of the country's longest continuously-operating motion picture theaters.

- The Old Cathedral on Ash Street was built in 1912 by Bert Keck with three spires and was added to the National Register in 1989. After the new Cathedral was built the old Cathedral's ownership was transferred to the Care and Share to expand services to the homeless.

- The Montagues Flower Shop Building on Main Street was built in 1900 and was originally used by the Minneapolis Brewery as a saloon. In 1904, Peter Stuhl had a shooting gallery inside the yellow brick building that has four jack-arched windows on the second story.

- The Old City Hall Building on South Broadway was built in 1899 by E.H. Strassburger and was a former home to Crookston Police Station, Crookston Fire Department and Eickhof Columbaria. Its upper 10 foot pyramidal roof was removed in 1979-80 and now houses the gift and decor shop Willow & Ivy.

- The Fournet Building on North Broadway was built in 1885 for $15,000 by Felix Fournet who was a wholesale liquor dealer and hotelman. It was the former home of the New York Store, Johnson Drug, Minnie I. Boe Agency, Dr. A.E. Lucian Dentist, Montgomery Ward, Munn's Jewelry and Four Seasons Clothing. The building is currently being renovated by owner Jeff Evers and is the future home of Tri-Valley Opportunity Council, Inc. and Polk County Public Defenders Office."
